

Map Your Five

As a child, who were the top five adults in your life that were a part of your support system outside of your parents?

Person	Role	How did they support you?
Mrs. Jones	Neighbor	She would help me sometimes with my math homework. I would go to her house after school if my parents were working and she would offer me advice.

Who are the top five adults in your child's life, outside of yourself, that provide a support structure for your child?

Person	Role	How can they support your child?

Probing Question: How can you use this power structure to help foster motivation in your child?
